UNUSOLICITED TESTIMONIALS

Upon receiving my most recent purchases... I examined both coins carefully and found them to be just as claimed and both much to my liking. Since I have been introduced to N.E.R.C.G. I have been quite pleased with the very nice material you have sent.
A.G., Chicago

I am very pleased with the 1927-S Quarter and the prompt service. You have a new customer. Proper grading is hard to find.
S.W., Portsmouth, Va.

You have gained yourself a new customer by grading fair.
N.G., New Paltz, N.Y.

Thanks so much for the Ch. BU Barber Dime which you have sent me. You can't imagine what a pleasure it is to do business with a company that has accurate grading.
F.W., Norwich, Conn.

I placed an order with you and received the best coins ever by way of the mail. I almost gave up on mail order because of the processed coins. Keep up your grading- it's great!
J.E., Chicago, Ill.

GENUINE VS. MINT MINDIES

A UNIQUE NUMISMATIC OPPORTUNITY

Each die was used in the production of the 1968-S proof-sets. Each die is serial numbered, and cancelled by the U.S. mint. No more dies will be available after our limited supply of these is exhausted.

After the mint resumed production of proof coins in 1968, the facilities did not include means for destruction of the used dies. Consequently, a number of the dies used for proof coins, fell into the hands of a well-known former San Francisco coin dealer.

We consider ourselves fortunate to have had the opportunity to purchase the entire remaining portion (3,000 pieces) of this famous hoard. These dies are completely legal for collectors to own, as they were cancelled by the mint in varying degrees so that they could no longer be used in production of coins, although a small part of the design remained on some of the dies. On the overwhelming majority of these, the detail was completely destroyed. Therefore, we have divided these dies into 3 categories...

- 1) Average grade: No detail at all remains. Approximately 85% of the dies fall into this category.
- 2) Some Detail: Perhaps a few letters or digits of the date, or some part(s) of the design are discernable. About 12% of the dies fall into this category.
- 3) Exceptional Detail: Usually 10-20% (in a few cases 20% to as much as 40%) of the detail remains intact. Very rare in this condition. Only about 3% of the dies fall into this category.

These coin dies should prove to be an excellent investment over the years. This is really a unique opportunity. Consider the following reasons:

- 1) These are rare collector's items that every coin collector will want. Compare the total number of dies (4,500) to the mintage of coins selling for $500 or more! Plus, consider that there are approx. 450 obverse and 450 reverse dies of each denomination in existence. A total of only 450 complete sets can possibly exist, and more likely the number of complete sets will be much less than that.
- 2) After this hoard is dispersed, there will be no further hoards to ever drive the market price down. No large group of these can ever again enter the market. Demand will increase and the supply will dry up. This can only drive the price up.
- 3) There will be a great collector interest as each die is a fascinating piece of numismatic history. Each die is serial numbered, so each is in a sense different. A complete set or even a single die would make a unique and fascinating display.
- 4) These are the best dies available. This group of 3,000 pieces, for the most part, consists of dies which were hand selected, from the original hoard of 4,500 pieces for having the most remaining detail.
- 5) They are the actual dies used to make the 1968-S proof sets. They're made of highest quality steel and weigh an average of 2 1/2 lb. (depending on denomination).

- 7) We don't expect these to last very long. The first 1,500 specimens were a fast sellout. These should sell even faster, as many are of higher quality. As our supply of these dwindles, we will probably raise our prices on them.
- 8) These are not just a collector's item and solid investment, but they would make a perfect gift, particularly because of their investment potential.
- 9) There is no better numismatic-related investment. As soon as this hoard has been dispersed, and these dies are no longer as readily available, prices are bound to skyrocket! We expect these to be selling for two or three times these prices within a couple of years. Perhaps ten to fifteen times these prices in 10 years.

We have been forced to increase our prices on grades 2 & 3, as we are nearly sold out on both of these grades. At this time we have only 3 complete sets of grade 3 dies remaining in stock.

(As you might imagine, these dies are selling extremely well in all three grades, but of course, the higher 2 grades, which are the rarest to begin with, will probably be the first to sell out.)

COLLECTOR'S ITEMS

This unique group which we are now dispersing is particularly desirable, as many of these dies were selected by their former owner as having the most remaining detail of the entire hoard.

We offer you these exciting collector's items in three grades based on the amount of remaining detail on the die.

COMPANY POLICIES & ORDERING INSTRUCTIONS
